I wish the Department of Justice would find something better to do with their time and money than wasting it on trying to screw up one of the best companies that America has ever had. Microsoft is the model that all companies should strive for. They are the most innovative and forward looking company that I have seen. They have proven that free enterprise, hard work and the entrepreneurial spirit are a live and well and I applaud them for it. I am ashamed that my government has tried to bring this great company down. I would suggest that the government take a look in the mirror and focus on fixing it's self. If this is the governments idea of watching out for me, I would rather they focus on something else. Please find something better to do!
